

Maher Terminals Takes Delivery of Two Rubb Buildings

Maher Terminals, one of the world's biggest independent multi-user container terminal operators, recently purchased an installed two Rubb BVR structures for their Elizabeth City, New Jersey facility. Both buildings measure 50' (15.24m) x 83.3' (25.4m) with 19.7' (6m) and will be used to house Maher's chassis repair operation.

The Rubb organization, with production facilities in the United States, Great Britain, and Norway, is recognized as a world leader in the design, development, and manufacture of relocatable structures.